

Animal Care-Plus

Two-thirds of American households spend over $40 billion on their pets. Today, Veterinary offices have the latest equipment and services, offer traditional pet care, provide physical and mental health counseling and advice for pet owners.

- Routine Veterinary Examinations
- Surgical/Non-Surgical Treatments
- Medications
- Laboratory Services
- Toys and Merchandise
- Food and Diet
- Pet Classes

We offer unprecedented representative access to 11,000 registered Veterinarians and 29,000 support staff for qualitative and quantitative market research survey data collection. Our access is national, and includes large and small practices.

- Veterinarians for small animals
- Veterinarians for large / farm animals
- Veterinarian Oncologists
- Veterinarian Technicians
- Technical Assistants
- Administrators

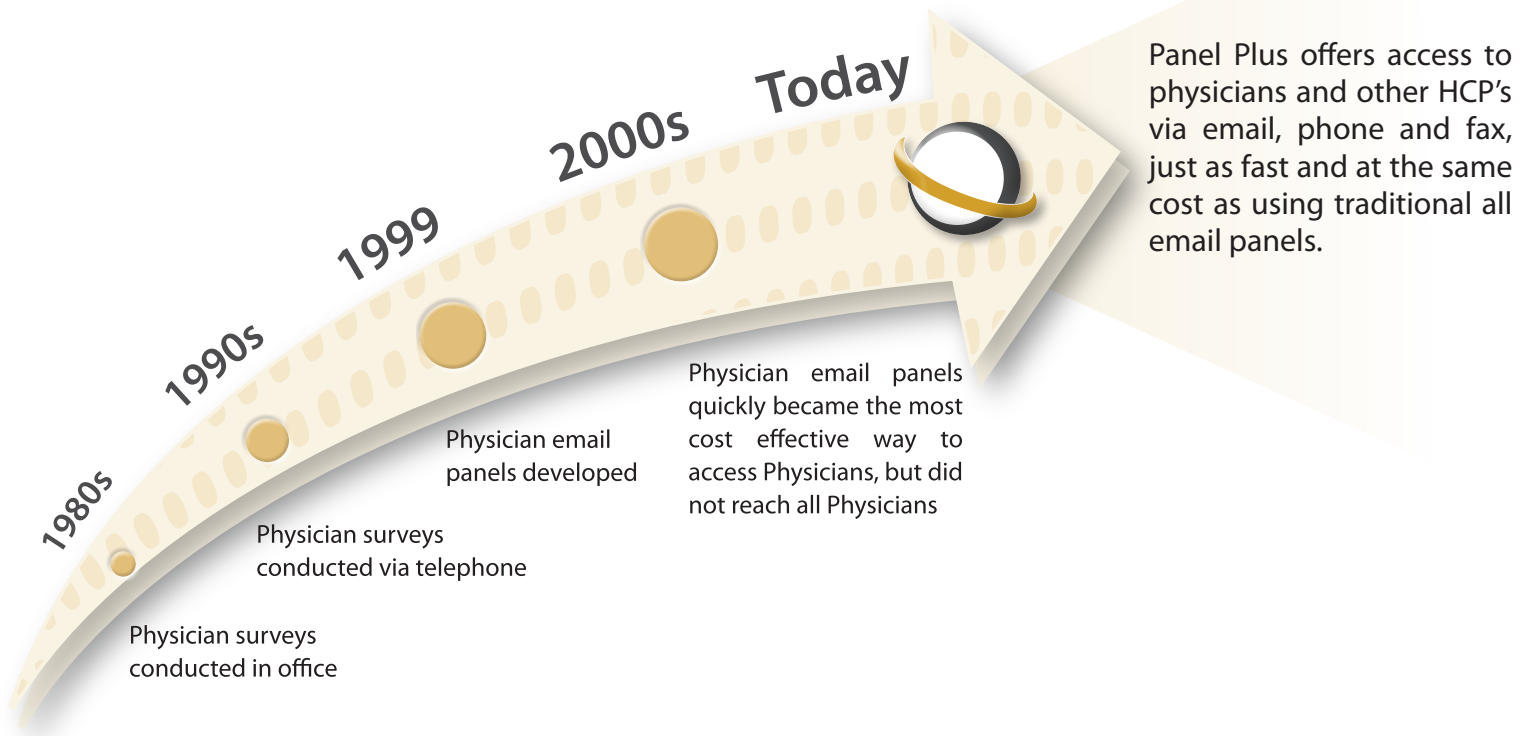

Conducting healthcare marketing research is our only focus. We have spent the last twelve years developing relationships with healthcare professionals across a broad range of specialties. Whether you are interested in performing Physician conjoint analyses on new medications, tracking pharmacist preferences, advertising/promotional effectiveness, brand awareness, patient satisfaction, health plan satisfaction, prescription drug use or learning more about your sales team and equipment and medical device needs, we have the experience and cost effective options to meet your research needs to answer such questions as:

- What services do they offer?
- What opinions do Veterinarians have regarding new animal hormone treatment?
- What merchandise do they carry and who provides?
- How do they learn about products, treatments or medications?
- Assessment of you and your competitors products or merchandise
- How effective is your sales team and sales effort ?
- What role does social media play and digital communications in education and sales?
- How are Healthcare Professionals using the internet professionally?
- How are Healthcare Professionals using mobile technology?
- What advertising viewed/web sites visited, where and when?
- What medications are being prescribed?
- What services are performed in house and what is outsourced?

 Global Healthcare Panel Plus

Panel Plus:

- A more rigorous sampling approach as it includes the entire universe of HCP's, not just empanelled HCP's.
- Provides a more representative sample, as every member of the HCP universe has an equal chance of being included
- Representative sampling provides a more stable sample design for custom and tracking studies
- Access to the entire universe enables you to reach more HCP's and complete tough and large quotas
- High (up to 90%+) match rates on provided lists
- Surveys conducted via web, handheld devices or 500 web / dialer enabled CATI stations
